

MORNING APPEAL

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3

L. P. Fisher, newspapers advertising agents, 21 Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, is our authorized agent. This paper is kept on file in his office.

OATH-BREAKING TRAITORS.

This is the way Editor Goodwin of the Salt Lake Tribune goes after the paid gold-bug press of the East:

As was expected, the bondholders press of the East are all jubilant over the result of the partial destruction of this part of the country, and everyone of them, with a sycophancy which is sickening, lauds Grover Cleveland to the skies as a second Jackson or a second Jesus, just as you please, as a man whose firmness compelled a rebellious Senate to do right at last. Not only have the Democratic papers taken this ground, but such magnum papers as the Springfield Republican, the Chicago Tribune, and all the nasty array of newspapers which, during the last eight years, have been at work for the bondholders and National bankers of the East. Of course they are petty larceny institutions. Of course they can see nothing beyond their immediate interests. Of course they are all so narrow that they have no horizon beyond a little circle around them. They like to talk of sound finances and the loveliness of borrowing gold from Great Britain, because the banks make a percentage when the money is borrowed. They make another by causing the bonds to appreciate, and making the property of the country of so little value that capital prefers investments in bonds at 3 and 3½ per cent rather than engaging in any business. But while these men can be treated as mere commentators, what can we think of grave Senators who have been twenty-five or thirty years trying to build up a reputation, who are on record over and over through a dozen years on the silver question, who, at a crack of the whip of the bulldozer in the White House, give up all their principles, go back on all their past convictions, and stand convicted at the bar of public opinion of being alike false to principle, false to their oaths, false to their platform and false to the country which has honored them.

It is in bad taste for the Examiner to belittle the efforts of Senator Jones and Stewart in behalf of silver, as it did on Friday. Senator Jones has stood as an authority on the money question for nearly twenty years, his knowledge of the subject receiving recognition from the government on more than one occasion, when he has been selected to represent the United States in an international monetary congress. There has been nothing that we have been able to see in the printed speeches of either Jones or Stewart to make light of. On the contrary, they show a wide range of information on the ins and outs of the question, such as would compensate any man for reading them. In this respect the Nevada Senators are in contrast with the Examiner, which has not discussed the problem at all. Nobody up this way is able to say how the paper stands—whether it is for silver or against it—and quite a number have manifested a desire to find out.—Stockton Mail.

The APPEAL is constantly in receipt of advertising propositions from Eastern firms. They usually want their ads. top of column, next to and surrounded by pure reading matter on the local page, and require the paper sent to them regularly while the ad. runs. The position they get in this office is next to and surrounded by other propositions of the same sort in the editorial waste basket.

The Fall round-up in Mason Valley occurred last week, starting at Walker Lake and ending at the Mason ranch. About twenty men participated. The cattle old and young, are reported to be in fine condition.—Bulletin.

The dispatches from Capetown say that 5000 natives attacked the British who opened on them with repeating rifles and rapid-fire guns. The slaughter among the native warriors was terrible, while the British lost but two men.

Congress may adjourn today. Well nobody out here cares a hoop, whether it does or not.
